Mr. Clay walked into the Court House in charge of Henry Davis, a negro, whom he caught with a dragout in the act of gathering in a lot of fish on the Stony Fork of Licking river.

The negro discovered the officer and broke and ran through a corn field, with Mr. Clay in hot pursuit. After a chase of five hundred yards the negro surrendered and was brought to town. A speedy trial was held before Judge Dundon and the negro sentenced to pay a fine of $5, in default of which he was sent to jail. Clay confiscated the dragout.

Mr. Earlwine took for his subject "Pythianism" and delivered one of the most eloquent addresses ever heard in our city. He fully sustained his reputation as one of Kentucky's gifted young orators.

T. Earl Ashbrook Dies.

Mr. T. Earl Ashbrook, aged 41 years, died at his home, on the Hume and Bedford pike, Friday afternoon, of tuberculosis.

Mr. Ashbrook was 21 years of age when he came to Paris and entered upon the practice of law. He was a graduate from Kentucky University and afterwards from the law department of the University of Virginia. He was a young man of bright intellect, unusual force of character, with manners of the genuine Kentucky gentleman, and a lawyer of ability.

At the time he had soared to prominence in his profession and enjoying the highest esteem of every citizen of this city and county, he realized that the great white plague, tuberculosis, was upon him. He then gave up the law, put aside his great ambition, and began the fight for health in the open air, and moved to a beautiful country place a few miles from Paris. Bravely did he fight to regain his strength, but finally had to succumb to the inevitable.

He was a prominent member of the order of Elks, and was held in the highest regard by a large circle of friends, who extend their heartfelt sympathy to his bereaved family.

Mr. Ashbrook was united in marriage of Miss Jennie Withers, of Lexington, daughter of the late General W. T. Withers, and is survived by his wife and three sons, Allen, Temple and Thomas Ashbrook.

He is also survived by one brother, Mayor Felix Ashbrook, of Cynthiana, and three sisters, Mrs. R. B. Hutchcraft, Mrs. Mary Dedman, and Miss Sallie Ashbrook, the two last named of Cynthiana.

A funeral train left Paris Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with the remains for Cynthiana, his boyhood home, where he was laid to rest in the beautiful Battle Grove cemetery.

The services were conducted at the grave by Elder Carey E. Morgan, assisted by Elder W. E. Ellis, of Cynthiana.

The pall-bearers were: R. K. McCahey, D. C. Parrish, E. M. Dickson, Geo. Alexander, Jos. M. Hall, J. W. Davis.

Miss Ella Ranson Dies Suddenly.

Miss Ella Ranson, aged about 22 years, was found dead in her bed at 6 o'clock Saturday morning by her sister Miss Mary Ranson, who slept in an adjoining room.

Miss Ranson had been a patient sufferer for several years with tuberculosis, but no alarm had been felt recently in regard to her condition. The immediate cause of her death was heart failure.

The Misses Ranson resided with their uncle, Mr. Wilson Ingles, on Fifteenth street, who was absent from home on a business trip to Chicago. The deceased was a lovely young lady, possessing many beautiful traits of character.

Besides her sister Miss Ranson is survived by two brothers, Jay Ranson, an employee of the Louisville & Nashville railroad, and Neely Ranson, of Atlanta, Ga.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the residence, conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan of the Christian Church, of which the deceased was a consistent member.
